

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FACULTY/STAFF
DEVELOPMENT AND STUDENT EXCHANGE

Members of the Committee:

Bill Feiker, Chair	(Central State University)
Colville Young	(University College of Belize)
Carlos Castillo	(Carozol Community College)
John Peterson	(Western Kentucky University)
Tracy Harrington	(Murray State University)
Ernest Raymond	(Belize, Chief Education Officer)
Sylvia Catouse	(University College of Belize)
Winifred C. Swift	(Belize School of Nursing)

The committee decided to work toward establishing development and exchange documents in the following areas:

1. Faculty-Staff exchange between Consortium and Belize institutions in which exchange personnel would be paid their regular salaries by their home institutions, with Consortium Schools possibly offering supplemental funds for Belize schools.
2. Sabbatical facilitation to Belize: to provide a structure by which Consortium faculty could take either teaching, research, or consulting roles at Belize institutions, with Belize institutions providing possible benefits such as housing or some salary supplement.
3. Staffing for Belize Institutions: to prepare a structure, related to Sabbatical facilitation, through which Belize institutions might obtain special needs staffing from the Consortium.
4. Faculty/Staff Development: creation of a mechanism through which Consortium and Belize faculty and staff could take advantage of research/study/orientation options for periods from a week to several months or longer.
5. One-to-one student exchange establishment of a procedure through which students from the Consortium and Belize can study at each other's institution with minimal cost. The one-to-one system allows Belize students to study abroad without the high costs normally associated with that study.

6. Study abroad for Consortium students: setting up a system through which individuals or groups of Consortium students could study in Belize, the cost of such programs normally covered by their tuition payments through the Consortium to Belize.

Models for all the above programs including those in Belize such as the Prime Minister's Program for Cross Cultural Exchange will be reviewed by July 15th and draft documents for development and exchange will be sent to Consortium members by the 1st of August. Committee members have agreed to share examples of programs currently in place at their institutions.

Dean Angel Cal will be in charge of the Belizean effort to develop a common language and nomenclature for the description of courses taught in higher education in Belize, particularly those leading to the awarding of the Associate degree (6th Form Schools) so that articulation programs may be developed with American schools within the Consortium. Otis King will be the U.S. contact person for this effort.

Otis King will send to Dean Cal copies of materials from SACS and those developed by TSU for immediate use in designing programs at UCB to wave those courses and programs that will be acceptable to SACS. As specific needs are identified by UCB, the Co-Chairs will identify those schools and individuals within the Consortium best able to provide that assistance.
